A brief look at code enforcement needs in Topeka

In 2000, the Planning Department began evaluating the "health" of the city's neighborhoods. This appropriate medical analogy allows you to see if the neighborhood needs "Intensive Care," if it is "At Risk," if it just needs "Out Patient" services, or if it is "Healthy." This overall health rating is based on five indicators of neighborhood health--Poverty, Public Safety, Average Residential Property Value, Homeowner Tenure, and Boarded Houses.
Cited Properties & Structures

Neighborhood Relations Property Maintenance division has the long term goal to reduce the number of cited properties and structures each year. Due to current conditions the number of cited will increase in 2018 as we take a more aggressive approach to address our housing stock in Topeka. Our number one goal is to improve the condition of our neighborhoods.

Property Maintenance Unit

The broad purpose of the Property Maintenance Code Unit is to protect public health, safety and welfare and ultimately try to make properties safer through protecting against criminal elements and personal safety, as well as through public health and sanitation procedures.

Voluntary Compliance refers to the property owner or responsible party bringing the property back into compliance with the International Property Maintenance Code (IPMC) within the time period allowed once notification has been given of the violation.

Complaints about a property can be called in anonymously to (785) 368-3161. A Code Official will visit the site within 48 hours to determine if a violation exists per the International Property Maintenance Code (IPMC).

For further information visit the City of Topeka Neighborhood Relations Code Compliance website or the City of Topeka adopted and amended International Property Maintenance Code.

For an FAQ of common violations or to get contact information visit Code Compliance > Frequently Asked.
A case study in Topeka: How the landlord expo came to be

- Longstanding challenges among neighborhood leaders, landlords and the City of Topeka existed
- City leadership decided to take a proactive role in repairing relationships by hosting a listening session with all parties
- Resulted in landlords and neighborhoods discussing what would be beneficial for their respective constituencies
- City agreed to plan and host an educational event for landlords to inform of rights and responsibilities and to have access to available resources, including advice, guidance and necessary tools that provide the avenue for a successful business. Landlords could also socialize and discuss issues openly and honestly with one another
- City and partners were hopeful the result would be more educated and encouraged landlords, resulting in better housing situations for tenants
How the landlord expo came to be & How Housing and Credit Counseling, Inc. (HCCI) Became Involved

- HCCI is a nonprofit, HUD approved counseling and education agency that began in 1972 as a social justice organization called - The Topeka Housing Complaint Center
- HCCI is funded by the City of Topeka to provide a unique Tenant/Landlord Counseling and Education Program
  - Provide expert, in-depth one-on-one telephone counseling - education and options to tenants, tenant advocates and landlords on their:
    - Rights/Responsibilities under Kansas landlord/tenant statutes, Federal Fair Housing Act and other applicable landlord/tenant related laws and issues
    - Provide forms that do the talking for tenants and landlords - forms are used to implement and explain rights and/or responsibilities to the other party in an easy to comprehend manner
    - Provide classroom education to landlords and tenants, respectively
How the landlord expo came to be, cont’d

Housing and Credit Counseling, Inc. (HCCI)

- Historically, landlords were resentful of the services provided by HCCI to tenants
- Landlords were equally aggrieved by the City’s efforts to make them comply with city codes or face repercussions to include fines and court hearings
- As a way to calm tensions - HCCI joined and began attending local landlord association meetings
- The City also attended landlord association meetings to discuss various housing topics
- At the meetings - HCCI and the City were met with anger and distrust
- But we didn’t give up....
Logistics

- Outreach included mailing invitations to landlords and neighborhood leaders
- Utilized existing partnerships in the community to encourage participation at the resource fair
- Securing the right location with access to multiple spaces for education and dialogue
- Encouraging neighborhood leaders and landlord association members to invite others to attend
- Scheduling a welcome by community leader, including door prize opportunities and breaks throughout the day
- Making a marketing and awareness plan about the event
